

The Presenters

Mobile Museum presenters are trained museum educators who have established working experience with audiences of all ages.

WARREN LOCKWOOD has 7 years of successful experience as a mobile museum presenter. He has a lifelong love for history and holds a degree from Yale. Warren has a warm, easy-going style in the classroom, and possesses great enthusiasm for teaching the Atfalati-Kalapuya and Chinook programs.

Teachers' comments about Warren:

"The hands-on activities were excellent. The students loved Warren's story of the girl and her coyote spirit. Another great job!"

RACHEL FOXMAN holds a masters degree in education and has over 20 years of experience in instructing drama, language arts and storytelling. Rachel has long practiced her passion for history and has a knack for inspiring audiences of all ages with her own style of sharing stories of the past.

Teachers' comments about Rachel:

"Rachel was very knowledgeable and moved along at a nice pace. This reinforces what we are doing in class!"

MIKE JANIK AND JON ASMUSSEN are as close to mountain men as you will find in the 21st century. Each actively study and take part in re-enactments of the mountain man era at rendezvous and other special events. Both are outfitted with their own personal mountain man regalia and trappings.

Presentation Details

Presentations are for one classroom at a time and last one hour, with 15 minutes needed between multiple sessions for setup. A teacher must be present at all times. A large table is required, plus several smaller ones for activities. Multiple presentations should be set up in a shared space such as a free classroom, library, or gym.

Presentations are suggested for grades 1-8

Presentation cost is $55 per classroom session.

Make checks payable to WCHS and mail to:

Washington County Historical Society
17677 NW Springville Road
Portland, OR 97229

or give payment to the educator at the time of your presentation.
